Control of Bonded Liquor Houses Rests With Dominion Government Since Plebiscite States J. R. Boyle

Attorney-General Answers Ald. J. W. Adair's Story Plain Speech—Would Close All Bonded Warehouses in the Province if He Had Authority—Previous to Vote the Provincial Government Preferred Having Spirits Under Lock and Key of Dominion Revenue Officer to Being in an Open Building—No Longer any Control Over Stocks Held by Provincial Authority—Advanced Legislation for Women Passed by the Alberta Legislature—"Let Stewart Finish His Work" Is Slogan Offered by J. The extraordinary statement of Alderman Joseph Adair at the Stoney Plain meeting that "bonding" hours before liquor licenses were only granted by the Dominion with the consent of the attorney-general, has forth an attempt to protest and denial from Hon. J. R. Boyle at the Liberal rally at the North Edmonton Hotel, Tuesday evening church Wednesday evening.

Following is a list of the candidates in the provincial elections who have been recommended by party conventions or declared their intention to run as candidates to the present date:

The returned soldier audience which thronged the Moncton hall Wednesday evening testified in discussing the subject after Mr. Boyle said: The government of the province has no power whatever to prevent the sale of liquor in the provinces. The legislature passed an act prior to the plebiscite of 1920 in an effort to control the sale of liquor in Dominion bonded warehouses, thinking it was safer to have liquor under lock and key than to have it open to the sale of a Dominion government that might open warehouses to which the public had access. It therefore was the policy of the government to have liquor under lock and key so that it could act on the interpretation that liquor was safer under lock and key in a Dominion bonded warehouse than in a private building.

QUEBEC, July 6.—Special prayers for rain are now being said in the Catholic church of the province at the request of His Eminence Cardinal Bégin. A permission to hold processions has also been asked for by parish priests in parishes where the drought has become critical.

LONDON, July 6.—The heat in London became so intense today that it was found necessary to move the patients in the upper wards of the city hospitals to the lower wards. Many families are sleeping in the open air.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Chicago babies died last week at the rate of 14 a day, a 15 per cent. greater infant mortality than a year ago. The increase was ascribed to the heat by the health department.

MONTREAL, July 6.—Two deaths were reported today in Montreal owing to the heat wave. Several prostrated jurors were compelled to retire temporarily from courtrooms at the King's Bench sessions. Owing to the parched nature of the pastures, farmers report that cows are not giving a normal supply of milk and there is danger of a shortage in the city.

Asks Council to Allow Southern Portion to Be Used for Three-Way

[illegible]

The new proposal is to lease property owned by Ald. McCoppen on the Rice street market square was placed before the city council on Wednesday.

At the present time, acting under the bylaw which embodies the new scale of license came before council for third reading, but it was only carried by three votes to two.

Ald. Collison was opposed to a man having to reside in the city 30 days before he could receive a taxi license. He said that the city would be threatened the situation would be at Hillside on the 24th, 25th, 26th and 27th tonight. There are many beautiful homes there and tonight the occupants are in fear just they be wiped out before morning.

It was the special meeting of council, to mark the fact that the vicinity A, where which has been burning in the vicinity of Barnaby river is now reported three miles from Rogenville, and that village is threatened, unless rain comes soon it will be impossible to hold employment in the place which he has secured employment there. Thus, for example, if loss of shipping were to be taken into consideration in the final decision as to the amount of the west, the grasshopper report continues, and generally favorable reports are being received. Up to the present damage is of a minor nature."

The final decision was that Alderman Adair's resolution was modified to the extent that council should respectfully request the exhibition association to have the grounds open to the public for the summer of 1907. The idea was attained in 1907 for the staling of 1715, and only returned in 1909.

WILLIAM AND ALLEN

Allen
As the impulsive daughter of British nobility who tries of a convent as home and library for freedom and brilliant society life, charming Miss Allen, the darling southern beauty in "The Marriage of William Ashe," now showing at the Allen, has a role surpassing all her preceding performances for dramatic power and dash. She plays the part of matronly Lady Brito, who has had her children married and married William Ashe, secretary for Home Affairs. In a series of drawings, shown only to her husband, she entices members of the British cabinet. But when she is to be a wife and a mother, she counts on the same Allen on her side to be a wife and a mother. Allen publishes the book of caricatures, which threatens her husband's political career, and shows a sound. Not satisfied with the damage she appears at a law party at Lady Godiva, riding on a white horse and wearing nothing but her hair—she causes the future of fortune. Then, disgusted, she runs to the rooms of her father, which is more thrilling even than the famous novel by Mrs. Humphrey Ward from which it is taken.

Monarch

That popular idol of the screen, William Farnum, is coming to the Monarch theatre in his latest William Ashe production, "The Marriage of William Ashe," a stirring story of the West, written by Gladys A. Malford.
"The Marriage of William Ashe" is one of the most powerful roles of his career, according to advance reports. He is cast as an outlaw, hated and feared more violently by the ranchmen than anyone known in the town of Fort Stanton. It is said that Mr. Farnum plays the role of a lawless man, who is a powerful story of the days of bandits and Indian and stage coach hold-ups. Mr. Farnum appears as the villain, a man of unscrupulous and cruel nature, who has been accused of committing numerous crimes, the worst of which were out of his duty. He gains the friendship of the Sheriff, who has gone out to arrest him, and subsequently makes a new start in life after winning the love of a beautiful girl. It is told in the development of a plot which is declared to be a masterpiece.

Rialto
Prison deliveries usually are marked by desperation and violence. Marked by desperation and violence, they are shown in "The Three Sevens," a picture which opens at the Rialto theatre today. The picture is a story of the state prison of San Pedro to seek some opportunity to establish his innocence of a murder for which he had been sentenced to serve twenty years at hard labor. He also finds that a number of his fellow prisoners could be helped without danger or injury to society. He did not intend to permit the escape of such hardened and dangerous criminals as "Harry the Gun," murderer of his sweetheart, "Bud" Cassidy, gun man, "Trick" O'Ray, gangster, Ben Davis, cracksmen, and the "Kiss" international swindler. Having saved his way out of the cell and released other prisoners, Craig held trials in the prison chapel, sitting as judge, with

Little Eva Coming With Uncle Tom's Cabin
At the New Empire all next week presents "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will open an engagement of one week, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. This is a revival of the classic of the American stage by Helen Green, who has made every effort to produce it as it was in the hey day. The company numbers forty people, and the equipment includes a band of twenty colored musicians, singers, comedians, and dancers, appear in the plantation scenes and scenes to lend realism to the play. A street parade will be given daily with hand, charcoal, stage and costumes. Watch for the parade daily at 12 o'clock noon during the week. This is not a moving picture.

Empress
